BIOGRAPHY

This Indie-Electronica duo and vanlife couple create high-spirited dance tracks, smoky downtempo jams, and art house grooves with mini-musical technology, allowing them to perform anywhere. Sultry vocals, samples, rap, spoken word poetry, and contagious beats are the signature of Vuzz's first self-titled LP, due out in March of 2022.

Vuzz started in New Orleans as a busking band, going on to play throughout Europe in the summer of 2018. Their tour ended on the Royal Mile as an official act of Scotland's legendary Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

The couple completed their album at home during lockdown in New Orleans. They gave up New Orleans (and their possessions) to convert a compact Nissan NV200 into a touring home on wheels.

Today, Vuzz travels full-time across the US, promoting their upcoming LP, and living in their largest project, “Vuzzvan.” They combine their music and travel passions on their Instagram page—creating all their own music, videos, artwork, and social media—sharing their journey with the world.
